DONALD T. REGAN, Chief of Staff to the President of the United States, was interviewed in his office located in the West Wing of the White House. Present during the interview was REGAN was advised of the nature of the interview and thereafter voluntarily provided the following information:

He stated that he recalled receiving a three page memo from National Security Advisor JOHN M. POINDEXTER regarding a National Security Planning Group (NSPG) meeting that was to be held on August 14, 1986. He also recalled receiving from POINDEXTER a strategy paper entitled, "Intensifying the Pressure on Qadhafi", that was to be discussed at the August 14, 1986 NSPG Both of those documents were received by him prior to the August 14, 1986 NSPG meeting. Copies of the two aforementioned documents were made available to REGAN for review. After reviewing the documents, he advised that he could not say with any degree of finality that they were in fact copies of the documents he received from POINDEXTER. They did however, appear to be similar in nature.

REGAN advised that he normally does not have much time to review documents pertaining to upcoming NSPG meetings prior to the meetings. Usually he receives the documents from the National Security Council (NSC) only hours before the meeting. This allows for only a quick reading of the documents. He does not keep such documents. They are returned to the NSC on the same day that they are received. The documents are brought to and from his office by courier. The only people on his staff who SECRET
